To Whom it May Concern

I have been asked to recommend Mr. Andrew Dafoe's interpretation and translation services, TNOLA Languages. I have known Mr. Dafoe professionally for several years and during that time he has demonstrated an earnest interest in providing quality interpretation and translation services to those involved in the justice system. Moreover, he has an acute awareness for the need to educate practitioners on best practices in the field of interpretation and translation, and further promote its practice according to the highest standards expected in that profession. His efforts in that regard are exemplary. Beyond that, I have certainly appreciated his willingness to participate in those education efforts in connection with my law school course syllabus.

I highly recommend this provider, and trust that you will give TNOLA Languages your due consideration. Should you wish to discuss further, you may reach me at (504) 861-5598.

Yours truly
