SUMP-GARD® SGK Thermoplastic CANTILEVER BEARINGLESS VERTICAL PUMPS

■ PVC ■ POLYPROPYLENE ■ PVDF ■ CPVC
Flows to 1000 gpm ■ Heads to 240 feet
Lengths to 5 feet ■ Temperatures to 275°F

All Vanton vertical centrifugal sump pumps are specifically designed to handle corrosive, abrasive and hazardous process fluids, wastewater liquids and slurries of various pH values, and for use in those applications where no metallic or other contaminants can be tolerated. The cantilevered large diameter shaft design of SGK pumps eliminates the necessity for any immersed bearings and permits dependable operation under dry running conditions. These pumps are available in lengths to 5 feet but can accommodate deeper sumps through the use of tail pipes. Models are available with standard semi-open or closed impellers, or with recessed impellers that provide unrestricted flow so that fluids with solids or stringy materials can be pumped without impeller clogging.

MATERIALS OF CONSTRUCTION

All pump components in contact with the fluid are furnished in a choice of chemically inert thermoplastics: polyvinyl chloride (PVC), chlorinated polyvinyl chloride (CPVC), polypropylene (PP) and polyvinylidene fluoride (PVDF). The heavy duty alloy steel shaft is completely isolated from the fluid by a heavy sectioned thermoplastic sleeve. No metal is in contact with the pumped fluid.

APPLICATIONS

Vanton SGK sump pumps are specified where submerged bearings cannot be tolerated because sudden fluid stoppage will result in running dry for short or extended periods. If this occurs, no harm will come to the pump. They are also recommended where regulations prohibit draining tanks from the bottom. They are in wide use for the transfer and circulation of aggressive or ultrapure fluids in chemical, petrochemical, environmental, manufacturing and wastewater applications where running dry capabilities are important to minimizing maintenance costs and maximizing MTBR.

Rugged steel shaft is isolated from fluid by thick sectioned thermoplastic sleeve

ADVANTAGES OF THERMOPLASTICS

- NO galvanic corrosion or rusting. Metals corrode, plastics don't.
- NO interbatch product contamination. Fiberglass composites wick and absorb by capillary action. Solid homogeneous thermoplastics don't.
- Superior resistance to abrasion compared to metals or thermoset composites.
- Greater chemical resistance over the full pH range compared to metals or thermosets.
- NO metallic contamination of the fluid.
- NO problems with galling. Easier maintenance.
