David Cassidy serves as of counsel in the firm's Baton Rouge office.

He graduated from Louisiana State University in 1972 and received his law degree from the Paul M. Hebert Law Center at LSU in 1975. In 1978, he received his LLM Tax Law degree from Southern Methodist University.

He is a Board Certified Specialist in Tax Law. His primary area of practice is state and local taxes. He represents taxpayers before local Boards of Review and the Louisiana Tax Commission in ad valorem cases and the Board of Tax Appeals, federal and state district courts, and both Louisiana's appellate courts and Supreme Court in all areas of state and local taxes including income, franchise, sales and use, and severance taxes.

Mr. Cassidy became a member of the American Bar Association's Section of Taxation State and Local Tax Committee in 1989. In 1999, he was named Vice Chair of the Committee and, in 2001, he became Chair and served in that capacity until 2003.

Prior to becoming Chair, he led various subcommittees and participated in numerous presentations on state and local tax issues both as a panelist and moderator. He also contributed articles to The Tax Lawyer, State and Local Tax Edition, a joint publication of the American Bar Association's Section of Taxation and Georgetown University Law Center. In 2015, he was asked to contribute an article to the Tax Lawyer's Special State and Local Committee Issue commemorating the Tax Section's 75th Anniversary reflecting on the changes he had seen during his years of practice in the area of state and local taxation.

Mr. Cassidy was one of the original authors for the ABA's Sales and Use Tax Desk Book, first published in 1987, and the ABA's Property Tax Desk Book which was first published in 1995. He continues to serve as author or co-author of the Louisiana chapters for those publications.

Mr. Cassidy is also one of the original members of the editorial board of The Journal of Multistate Taxation and Incentives which Thomson Reuters began publishing in 1991. His most recent articles for that publication covered a New Orleans occupational license tax and Louisiana's recent amendments to its reprocessing exclusion. "New Orleans Tax on Dealers of Alcoholic Beverages Held Constitutional License Tax," Journal of Multistate Taxation and Incentives (Thomson Reuters/Tax & Accounting), Volume 28, Number 7, October 2018 and "Louisiana's Reprocessing Exclusion," Journal of Multistate Taxation and Incentives (Thomson Reuters/Tax & Accounting), Volume 27, Number 9, January 2018.

In 2018, Tax Analysts, a nonprofit publisher of articles on tax policy and administration asked Mr. Cassidy to begin writing a column on Louisiana tax issues. The first column of Bonne Lecture appeared in the November 12, 2018, issue of State Tax Notes, at p. 607 and discussed Louisiana's taxation of services.

Mr. Cassidy has given talks on various state and local tax topics to tax organizations such as the Tulane Tax Institute, The Institute for Professionals in Taxation (IPT), ABA/IPT Joint Tax Seminars, the Baton Rouge Chapter of CPAs, the Louisiana Department of Revenue, and the Louisiana Association of Tax Administrators. He has also spoken to trade associations such as Associated Builders and Contractors.

In recognition of his work, he was selected by his peers for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, and 2019. In 2017, he was named Baton Rouge's "Lawyer of the Year" for tax law by the organization.

Since 2007, he has been designated by "Chambers USA" as one of Louisiana's leading lawyers for business in the area of Corporate/M&A and listed in "Louisiana Super Lawyers" in the area of tax.

In addition, Mr. Cassidy has been given an AV Peer Review Rating in Martindale-Hubbell which is the highest rating standard given by that organization. The rating signifies that a large number of Mr. Cassidy's peers rank him at the highest level of professional excellence for his legal knowledge, communication skills and ethical standards.

Appellate

- Plaisance v. Jefferson Parish School Board, 252 So.3d 996 (La. App. 5th Cir. 7/31/2018).

Elementary and middle school principals filed petition for damages and declarative and injunctive relief against school board, alleging breach of contract, following decision to demote or remove principals. The District Court, 24th District, Jefferson Parish, No. 721-681, DIVISION "C", June B. Darensburg, J., entered partial final judgment confirming demotions and removals.

- Garrison v. St. Charles General Hospital, 847 So.2d 688 (La. App. 4th Cir. 5/7/2003).

Writ granted remanding Hepatitis C class action and ordering trial court to address the Defendants' exception of cumulation of actions before ruling on class certification and to revisit exception of improper venue after or in conjunction with a hearing and ruling on class certification.

- Chauvin v. Sisters of Mercy Health System, St. Louis, Inc., 818 So.2d 833 (La. App. 4th Cir. 5/18/2002), writ denied, 825 So.2d 1194 (La. 9/30/2002).

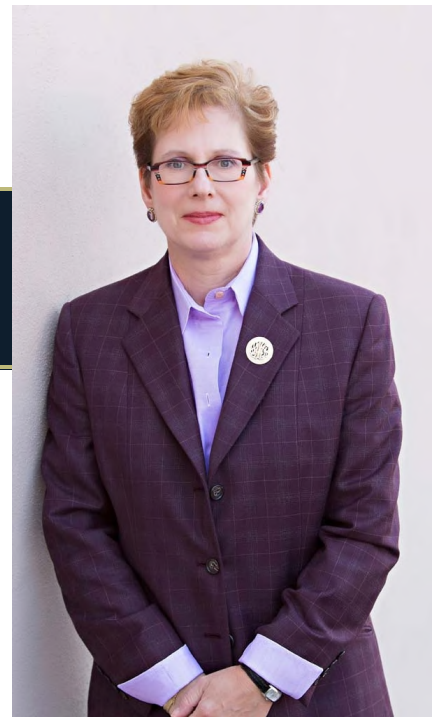

Summary judgment dismissing 1963 blood transfusion recipient's strict liability and negligence claims against hospital for Hepatitis C affirmed by the Louisiana Appellate Court. The Court held that, in 1963, virus' presence in blood was "unavoidably unsafe" under the restatement of the Law of Torts 2d, precluding liability.

- Arnolie v. Orleans Parish School Board, et al., 48 Fed.Appx. 917, 2002 WL 31115131 (5th Cir. 9/17/2002).

The Fifth Circuit determined that Arnolie's race discrimination claim was not brought timely, two unfavorable evaluations did not amount to adverse employment actions and school Principals were not "employers" as defined by Title VII.

- Taylor v. Books A Million, Inc., 296 F.3d 376 (5th Cir. 7/15/2002).

In a race discrimination and retaliation case against Books A Million, Inc., the U.S. Fifth Circuit affirmed the district court's dismissal of plaintiff's claims under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6). The case presented an issue of first impression for the Fifth Circuit regarding the timeliness of the filing of a lawsuit under Title VII after the presumed receipt of a notice of right to sue from the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Looking to the United States Supreme Court and other circuits, the Fifth Circuit adopted a seven-day presumption of receipt, where the date of receipt of the EEOC's notice of right to sue was

- Douglas v. Dyn McDermott Petroleum Operations Company, 144 F.3d 364 (5th Cir.6/18/1998), rehearing en banc denied, 163 F.3d 223 (5th Cir. 12/16/1998).

In-house counsel was terminated and sued claiming race discrimination and retaliation. Jury verdict on retaliation claim only reversed by the Fifth Circuit Court. No protection under Title VII for an in-house attorney who violated the Rules of Professional Conduct and disclosed confidential client documents and information to a third party under the guise of asserting her rights - no protected activity.

- Cabrol v. Town of Youngsville, 106 F.3d 101, (5th Cir. 2/24/1997)

The Fifth Circuit held that summary judgment was properly granted in favor of employer where terminated employee alleged constitutional violations but lacked a sufficient property interest as an at-will employee and could have been terminated at any time.

- Sherman v. RK Restaurants Holdings, Inc., 2014 WL 4540023 (E.D. La. 9/11/2014)

Motion to Stay Pending Arbitration granted under the Federal Arbitration Act and the parallel state law in a race and religious discrimination, defamation, intentional infliction of emotional distress, and wage claim action removed to Federal Court. Arbitration Agreement signed by Executive Chef at inception of employment agreeing to submit all claims, including wage, tort and discrimination claims, enforced. Court rejects an unconscionable argument, and finds that the FAA preempts a state law that prohibits choice of forum clauses and that the claims fall within the scope of the clear terms of the Arbitration Agreement.

- Christina v. Stein, 2003 WL 22966366 (E.D. La. 12/12/2003).

Rule 12 (b)(6) Motion to Dismiss individual supervisory defendants (Board President and Executive Director) in Age Discrimination in Employment Act (ADEA) suit filed by employee of retirement facility.

- Barber v. Marine Drilling Mgmt., Inc., 2002 WL 237848 (E.D. La. 2/15/2002).

Rule 12(b)(6) Motion to Dismiss granted in sexual harassment, defamation, intentional infliction of emotional distress and state law whistle-blower case. Allegations did not appropriately satisfy that the conduct at issue was "because of sex" or that the conduct was so severe and pervasive as to constitute hostile environment discrimination under Title VII and La. R.S. 23:301. The state law claims were dismissed for failure to state the necessary elements.

- Santee v. Windsor Court Hotel Ltd., Pshp., 2000 WL 1610775 (E.D. La. 10/26/2000).

Refusal to hire because of plaintiff's hair color dismissed on summary judgment, as plaintiff did not comply with employer's grooming standards. The court found no basis for constitutional or Title VII race discrimination claims, as no state action was involved and hair color was not a protected class.

Novels Published

Judas The Apostle, August 2013

Ancient language expert Dr. Clotile Lejeune is happily living a quiet life in Seattle when her world is profoundly shaken. After she learns that her estranged father has been murdered, Cloe must travel with her soldier son, J. E., back to her Louisiana hometown to unlock the mysteries of a two-thousand-year-old oil jar her father has left her-a jar inscribed with the name Judas Iscariot. Anxious to find her father's killer and dispel her own personal demons, Cloe has no idea that what she is about to uncover has the potential to set the international religious community on fire.

The Last Sicarus, February 2014

Dr. Clotile Lejeune, an ancient languages expert, barely survived her encounter with the Kolektor, a billionaire arms merchant desperate to possess the ancient oil jar bequeathed to Cloe by her father. Now that the Kolektor has met his fate at the hands of the Sicarii-the shadowy successors to Judean revolutionaries and now guardians of the cave of jars-Cloe is busy translating the newly discovered and potentially earth-shaking journal of Christ's public ministry. But when she is called to a personal audience with the pope, Cloe soon realizes her past has caught up with her once again.

7, October 2016

It has been four years since ancient languages expert, Cloe Lejeune, her son, J.E., and the monsignor nearly lost their lives while defeating the Karik's forces at Masada. Still, she has never lost her passion for translating old texts. One evening while attempting to decipher digitalized scraps culled from a jar left to her by the Sicarii, Cloe quickly realizes that something terrible is about to happen. As she prepares to race to the Vatican to tell the pope of her discovery, a giant man delivers cryptic cards to seven unsuspecting strangers who suddenly find themselves heading toward New Orleans with no reason why.

Gaming

Summary: We represent a group of individuals involved in the video gaming industry who are suing multiple companies operating racetracks and offtrack betting facilities. The lawsuit challenges the legality of historical horse racing, a type of slot machine game that uses old horse races to determine outcomes. We argue that this form of gaming, which emerged after 1996, must be approved by voters in the local area before it can be legally offered, according to state constitutional requirements. A state racing commission has intervened in support of the racetrack operators. We also represent a trade association for video gaming establishments and a large operator of such businesses. The case, which questions the constitutionality of a new gaming law, was initially decided in our favor, with the court ruling that historical horse racing is illegal. This decision gained significant media attention. The case is now on appeal, and the state's highest court will hear it in 2025. This case is notable as it addresses the legal classification of historical horse racing compared to traditional pari-mutuel wagering.

Summary: We represent a video poker truck stop casino in a case involving a security guard's injury and an insurance dispute. The court ruled in our favor, ensuring the policy covered the incident.
