Brief Overview of Nominated Project

Project Description

This project includes the cleaning and painting of all metal surfaces on two bridges on US101 @ M.P. 194.3 and 212.5. These are overhead steel truss bridges that were in need of repainting. The project also included new paved panel joints and new expansion joints on the driving surface of the bridges.

Customer-Focused Administration

During the course of the project, it was evident that Southern Road and Bridge wished to perform the highest quality work within the least amount of time. They also partnered with WSDOT on more than one occasion to mitigate the impacts to the traveling public by opening up both lanes when construction activities were not ongoing. This was greatly appreciated by the surrounding community during a weekend festival in Forks, WA. Southern Road and Bridge was receptive and very quick to respond to any requests by WSDOT.

Innovative Problem Solving

Southern Road and Bridge proposed a cost reduction to the project to utilize recyclable abrasive blast media to remove the existing paint, rust, and other foreign material on the steel bridges. By utilizing recyclable abrasive blast media they were able to complete the blasting with significantly less abrasive material and generated significantly less hazardous waste. The storage and disposal of hazardous waste is a force account item paid by WSDOT, and this innovative solution greatly reduced this cost to the taxpayers. Southern Road and Bridge brought up very specialized equipment to recapture, separate, and reuse the steel grit during the blasting process. It was very evident that Southern Road and Bridge was a highly experienced company whose mission was to perform very high quality work with as little impact to the environment as possible.

Overcoming Extraordinary Challenge

There were several challenges that were overcome on this project:

1. Class 1 containment was required. This is the highest level of containment and Southern Road and Bridge was able to meet the specifications with no major releases.
2. Short project duration with limited working hours. This project was to be complete in 90 working days with only Sundays not being counted. Due to nesting birds in the area, the Contractor was only allowed to work between 2 hours after sunrise to 2 hours prior to sunset. To meet this aggressive schedule, Southern Road and Bridge worked numerous Sunday shifts and in the end worked on both bridges simultaneously to complete the project within the allowable working days.

Washington State Department of Transportation

3. First WSDOT contract by an out of state company. This was Southern Road and Bridge's first WSDOT contract and they worked diligently to learn our submittal and materials acceptance processes. To add to this challenge, WSDOT bridge and structure reviews were hired out to a consultant. This meant that the lines of communication went through 1 extra channel and this added time and confusion to the process of approving submittals. Southern Road and Bridge worked diligently to return corrections asap and was able to get all submittals approved without significant delays to the project. Even during the most frustrating times, the project team from Southern Road and Bridge kept a positive attitude, responded quickly, and remained professional.
4. Weight/ Loading restrictions on the bridges. Due to weight/load restrictions, the bridges had to be painted in stages. First, the underdeck steel was painted with the requirement that only 1 lane of traffic could be allowed and had to be in the center of the bridge. Then once the underdeck platform and containment was removed, then the traffic could be swapped to one side or another to perform all the overhead work. This restriction made the task of completing the project in a short duration that much more difficult.

Effective Contract Administration

Southern Road and Bridge did a fantastic job of learning a new process and submitting all documentation prior to beginning work. The project teams communicated very well and kept a very professional attitude. Submittals and materials documentation was submitted in a timely manner and all requests from WSDOT were answered quickly. Southern Road and Bridge was also very helpful and took the time to explain any items of confusion to the WSDOT team.

Timely Completion of Project

Southern Road and Bridge worked very efficiently and was able to complete both bridges within the allowable time. They worked numerous Sundays to make this happen and they were determined to get the work done in time.

Safety

Southern Road and Bridge is a safe working company and there were no accidents on this project. They were also very helpful with ensuring that our project inspector had appropriate equipment and stayed safe at all times. They went above and beyond what was required to drive our inspector from the project site back to the shower facility each day during the blasting and painting work. In addition, when our inspector was ill, the project foreman volunteered to driver her to the local hospital. This was appreciated greatly and showed that Southern Road and Bridge cared about all members of the project team.

Mehta Reference Letter

Dear Mr. Pappas,

This reference letter is to acknowledge our appreciation with Southern Road and Bridge's excellent work in completing the subject coatings renewal project on time and under budget. This project was challenging as the cleaning and coating work was going on concurrent with other Central Florida Expressway Authority (CFX) work within the project limits of the coating project. Southern Road and Bridge was very cooperative working with our Mehta CEI team and the other active concurrent project teams and with coordination of vegetation removal with the owner CFX maintenance division.

The tell tail sign of an excellent quality project is when we get to the semi-final inspection and all work is found to be acceptable, by all, with no deficiency list items and the semi-final inspection becomes the final inspection and the project is ready to be recommended for final acceptance to the owner, which was the case with this project. Great Job!!

We look forward to working with Southern Road and Bridge on similar future CFX projects.

Sincerely,

To Whom it may concern:

Please find this letter of recommendation for Southern Roads and Bridge an A+ for upcoming projects that they propose an interest in. Their quality of work was top of the line and as well as the important documents sent in from the main office (correct and on time). This is the second project that I have had with Southern Roads and Bridge and both has turned out excellent.

- 1.) The painting of West Bay Bridge over the Intercoastal waterway (Bay County, Fl.).
- 2.) Dupont Bridge abutment repair after Hurricane Michael (Bay County, Fl.)

I would highly recommend Southern Roads and Bridge for any future projects.

SOUTHERN ROAD & BRIDGE, LLC
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2019

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Operations:

The Company operates as a contractor engaged in paving roadways and restoring bridges, generally across the Southeast. The work is performed primarily under unit-price and fixed-price contracts. The length of contracts varies but is typically less than one year.

Accounting Estimates:

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Management periodically evaluates estimates used in the preparation of the financial statements for continued reasonableness. Appropriate adjustments, if any, to the estimates used are made prospectively based upon such periodic evaluation. It is reasonably possible that changes may occur in the near term that would affect management's estimates with respect to the percentage of contract completion, allowance for doubtful accounts and accrued expenses.

Revisions in estimated contract profits are made in the year in which circumstances requiring the revision become known.

Balance Sheet Classifications:

The Company includes in current assets and liabilities retentions receivable and payable under construction contracts that may extend beyond one year. A one-year time period is used as classifying all other current assets and liabilities.

Revenue and Cost Recognition:

The construction services performed under each contract represent a single performance obligation that is satisfied over time. Revenues from construction contracts are recognized over time using the cost-to-cost input method, measured by the percentage of costs incurred to date to estimated total costs for each contract. This method is used because management considers costs incurred to date to be the best available measure of progress on these contracts. Because of the inherent uncertainties in estimating costs, it is at least reasonably possible that the Company's estimates of costs and revenues will change in the near term.

Revenue and Cost Recognition (Continued):

Contract costs include all subcontract, direct material and labor costs and those indirect costs related to contract performance, such as indirect labor, insurance, supplies, tools, repairs and depreciation. Costs of inefficiencies or wasted resources (material or labor) are excluded when measuring progress and are expensed as incurred. General and administrative costs are charged to expense as incurred. Provisions for estimated losses on uncompleted contracts are made in the period in which such losses are determined. Changes in job performance, job conditions and estimated profitability, including those arising from contract penalty provisions and final contract settlements, may result in revisions to costs and income and are recognized in the period in which the revisions are determined. Changes in estimated job profitability resulting from variable consideration (such as incentives for completing a contract early or on time, penalties for not completing a contract on time, claims for which the Company has enforceable rights, or contract modifications/change orders in which the scope of modification has been approved, but the price has not been determined or approved) are accounted for as changes in estimates in the current period, but limited to an amount that will not result in a significant reversal of revenue in future periods. The contract asset, "Costs and estimated earnings in excess of billings on uncompleted contracts," represents revenues recognized in excess of amounts billed. The contract liability, "Billings in excess of costs and estimated earnings on uncompleted contracts," represents billings in excess of revenues recognized.

Contract Receivables:

Contract receivables from construction are based on amounts billed to customers. The Company provides an allowance for doubtful collections, when necessary, which is based upon a review of outstanding receivables, historical collection information, and existing economic conditions. Normal contract receivables are due 30 days after issuance of the invoice. Retainages are due upon completion of contracts. Contract receivables past due more than 30 days are considered delinquent. Delinquent contract receivables are written off based on individual credit evaluation and specific circumstances of the customer. Balances that remain outstanding after the Company has used reasonable collection efforts are written off. Management determined no allowance was necessary for the year ended December 31, 2019.

Property and Equipment:

Property and equipment are stated cost and depreciated over the estimated useful lives of the individual assets utilizing the straight-line method. Estimated useful lives are generally as follows:

Office furniture and equipment	5 - 7 years
Construction equipment	5 - 10 years
Transportation equipment	5 years

Major expenditures for property and equipment, and those which substantially increase useful lives, are capitalized. Maintenance, repairs and minor renewals not included as contract costs are expensed as incurred. When assets are retired, or otherwise disposed of, their costs and related accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and any resulting gain or loss is included in income for the year.

Income Taxes:

The Company, with the consent of its members, has elected to be taxed as a partnership under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, whereby income is passed through to the individual members. Under this election, the Company does not pay any federal or state income taxes. Accordingly, no provision for income taxes on current period income has been made in the accompanying financial statements.

If it is probable that an uncertain tax position will result in a material liability and the amount of the liability can be estimated, then the estimated liability is accrued. If the Company were to incur any income tax liability in the future, interest on any income tax liability would be reported as interest expense, and penalties on any income tax would be reported as income taxes. As of December 31, 2019, management believes there were no uncertain tax positions.

Recent Accounting Standards:

In May 2014, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606) ("ASC 606"). ASC 606 supersedes the revenue recognition requirements in FASB Accounting Standards Codification Topic 605, Revenue Recognition, and requires the recognition of revenue when promised goods or services are transferred to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which an entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Company adopted ASC 606 on January 1, 2019, using the modified retrospective transition method applied to all contracts that were not completed at that date. Adoption of the new guidance resulted in changes to the Company's accounting policies for revenue and cost recognition. The difference to revenue and cost recognition-related account balances at December 31, 2018, under ASC 606 was determined to be immaterial. Accordingly, no adjustment to beginning retained earnings was necessary.
