H. Past Performance by person or Firm on Parish contracts

The firm has successfully completed projects involving legal services of the type and nature defined in the Request for Statements of Qualifications. Many of these projects involved representation of the Parish of Jefferson or its Special Districts.

In Parish of Jefferson, et al vs. British Petroleum, et al (USDC), the firm represented the Parish of Jefferson against BP, and others, for damages incurred as a result of the British Petroleum, Deep Water Horizon Oil Spill that occurred in December, 2012. Our firm successfully represented the Parish in collecting over $53,000,000 in damages on behalf of the Parish – one of the largest recoveries of any municipality affected by the spill.

In Magee v. Jefferson Parish (24th JDC) the firm represented the Parish of Jefferson and the Jefferson Parish Drainage District with respect to liability arising out of storm surge flooding of back levees on the west bank of Jefferson Parish, prior to the turnover of the levees to the West Jefferson Levee District. The hydrology of the west bank of Jefferson Parish and the sufficiency of the levee and drainage systems were major issues in the case. We obtained dismissal of the claims against the Parish of Jefferson.

In CCP Properties, LLC v. The Parish of Jefferson, et al, we represented the Parish of Jefferson in a claim brought by a land owner who alleged his property suffered extensive damage exceeding $500,000, and sought attorney and expert fees due to construction work undertaken to complete the Harahan Pump to the River Drainage Project. Specifically, plaintiff complained that through the use of sheet piles and excavation of land near its property, the buildings and concrete surfaces of their property began to separate and crack. Ultimately the case was settled, for payment of $425,000 by the parish, which amount was credited by the Corps against the local contribution owed for the drainage project.

In Parish of Jefferson v. SFS (24th JDC) we filed a declaratory judgment action on behalf of the Parish against a private operator of the Parish Fire Training Center with respect to the right of the Parish to terminate the contract under a non-appropriations clause, at no additional cost or expense to the Parish. We successfully obtained a declaratory judgment in favor of the Parish. We also obtained the dismissal of damage claims by SFS against the Parish arising out of termination of the contract pursuant to the non-appropriations clause.

In Berry v. Parish of Jefferson (24th JDC) we successfully represented the Parish of Jefferson through trial and on appeal against a suit for injunctive relief against a proposed rezoning of the property, and for damages arising out of rezoning of property by the Parish of Jefferson in accordance with Jefferson Parish zoning ordinances and land use ordinances. The case also included unsuccessful attempts by the plaintiffs to enjoin the Parish from conducting a zoning and land use study of the property, and from rezoning the property to a more restrictive use. The remaining portion of the case involved claims for alleged damages arising out of the rezoning of the property to a more restrictive use.

In Willow, Inc. v. Jefferson Parish (24th JDC) we represented the Parish of Jefferson in a suit by a developer who wished to force the Parish to approve a proposed re-subdivision plan submitted by the developer, and a claim for damages allegedly suffered by the developer as a result of the Parish's refusal to approve the re-subdivision plan. We obtained a dismissal of the suit against the Parish. The decision denying the re-subdivision request was affirmed.

In Vicari v. Jefferson Parish (24th JDC) we defended the Parish of Jefferson in a suit for a property owner whose property was demolished pursuant to the Parish's blighted property program. We were successful in enforcing the right of the Parish to demolish the property in accordance with the blighted property ordinances of the Parish. After trial the claims against the Parish were dismissed. Writs were denied by the U.S. Supreme Court.

In L4 v. Parish of Jefferson, Jefferson Parish Council and Organic Waste Technologies (24th JDC) the firm represented the Parish in a suit by an unsuccessful proposer on a request for proposals to provide methane gas collection services at the Parish Landfill. The suit included a request for injunctive relief and for damages arising out of alleged violation of public bid laws and contractors' licensing laws. The matter was resolved in favor of the Parish of Jefferson.

In Waste Management v. The Parish of Jefferson, the firm represented the Parish in a suit by the then landfill operator, seeking to stop the Parish from terminating the contract, and seeking damages arising out of the alleged breaches of contract by the Parish. The matter was settled on terms favorable to the Parish.
